GRANTSVILLE HAPPENINGS.

Grantsville, Feb. 25—Representative Andrew Benson was in town yesterday and it is reported he purchased the old home of Charles Stromberg.

Washington's birthday was duly celebrated in Grantsville. There was an appropriate program in the school with a grand ball in the evening.

Mayor Robinson of Logan was here yesterday lecturing by invitation of the school. Mr. Robinson gave a description of the holy land during the afternoon, while the evening was devoted to the question of consolidation. The gentleman argued that separate maintenance was the correct view point. He did considerably upon this very important question, and it is norder to make clear his position. The people were enlightened considerably upon this very important question, and it is hoped we shall now be able to listen to arguments from the friends of conselidation.

A number of visitors were in Grantsville.

(Special to The Herald.)

Provo, Feb. 25.—Marie, daughter of Postmaster James Clove, died this evening after four days' illness from spinal meningitis. Wednesday will be the ninth birthday anniversary of the child, and the funeral will be held on that day at the Sixth ward meeting house. Services beginning at 2 o'clock.

A report that another child of Mr. Clove was suffering from the same disease is erroneous.
